

GRANTISM ABROAD

British Opinions on Tuesday's Victory.

THE CAUSES DISCUSSED

Shadow of the Third Term—Oppression at the South.

Money Squanderings and Political Partisanship.

GRANT'S BLUNDERS IRREPARABLE.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD BY CABLE.]

LONDON, Nov. 6, 1874.

The Times, commenting editorially upon the recent democratic victory in the United States, says:—

"It is fortunate that at present there is no serious issue raised between the parties on Union or State affairs as revealed by the elections. It gives occasion for some anxiety to know that when Congress meets in March the new House will be controlled by a large democratic majority. Yet, in spite of all this, General Grant will remain in office till 1877."

NOT AMENABLE TO THE POPULAR VOICE.

"There is no power in the constitution to change a single member of the administration. Such a situation is not inducible here, where we have an amenable government, rather than the approval of particular men or a spirit of opposition. The discredited Ministers would retire from office before the meeting of Parliament. An attempt to maintain a similar state of affairs would be passionately resented in France; yet it is borne in America without remonstrance, the victors patiently waiting the fruits which are to be found in their succession to the federal government. The events of the week betoken the condemnation of Grant."

BUTLER'S FATE.

"The rejection of General Butler is, perhaps, attributable to his resentment against the President when using his influence at last year's election to secure the governorship of Massachusetts."

CHIEF DISTRUST OF POLITICAL PARTISANS.

"The Pall Mall Gazette says:—

"There is no doubt but that a profound distrust of men such as Cameron, Conkling, Morton and Butler had taken hold of the mind of the people who were otherwise contented to vote with their party. The most important result of the contest is the complete success of the democratic party. The democratic reaction in the South wrecked the prospects of the republicans south of Mason and Dixon's line, and seriously injured it elsewhere. The fact is clear that the majority given in favor of the democratic candidates constitutes a serious warning for the next Presidential contest. The attitude of the republicans resembles very much that which was assumed by the liberal leaders in England in the month of February last—viz., to accept the success of their political opponents with fortitude, disbelieving that there is a permanent change in the sentiment or principles of the people."

THE VERDICT ON THE INDICTMENT.

"The verdict of the country is a protest against a third term for Grant; against the policy of the administration toward the South; against the management of the finances; against the salaries bill, and the failure of the fraud investigation. Some of Grant's blunders are irreparable; others retrievable."

The Standard says in a leader this morning much the same thing as the Pall Mall Gazette.

The Morning Post estimates the democratic majority at from sixty-four to seventy-four.

The editor says:—"Grant might have averted the result by opening his lips. The assertions of others, partisans, were not sufficient to make the people believe his earnestness in abandoning the idea of a third term."

More About the Ex-Secretary Who Is Returning to Europe from America.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6, 1874.

A special despatch from St. Louis to the Commercial Tribune this morning in regard to the arrest of Otto Von Schmidt, Secretary of Count Von Arnim, states that the order for the Secretary's return came from Count Von Arnim, Wednesday morning, October 23, and that he left for New York that evening accompanied by a detective and a friend named Peter Gran.

On Saturday, the 5th, Von Schmidt proceeded to the office of a German merchant and got the important papers and started for Europe on that day. Von Schmidt admitted the papers in the German merchant's possession were a portion of the letters of Bismarck to Von Arnim, abstracted by the latter from the archives of the Paris Legation.

Thomas Lanagan, manager of the Detective Agency, after being shown extracts from Eastern papers denying the account of the arrest, admitted to looking up a young German on advice from Berlin, and also that the man went back voluntarily. He said there was no arrest, because the offence was of a political character. He did not deny the particulars stated in this despatch, nor would he admit them, giving as a reason that his connection with the affair was confidential, and he would not violate it. He was very much annoyed that the facts had leaked out before the arrival of Von Schmidt at Berlin.
